

Mexico Education Standards Alignment with Crayola Creativity Week

Supporting Learning through Cross-Curricular, Creative Learning Experiences

Language

Communication and Expression

- Express personal and collective identity through language.
- Communicate ideas, emotions, interests, needs, and knowledge effectively.
- Participate in dialogue that respects cultural, linguistic, and social diversity.
- Communicate in their first language and other languages.

Reading

- Develop reading comprehension.
- Read different text types.
- Interpret meanings and perspectives in texts.
- Use reading to understand their world and other cultures.
- Develop critical reading habits.
- Read for information, enjoyment, reflection, and community participation.

Writing

- Generate and organize ideas.
- Write for different audiences and purposes.
- Produce coherent and structured texts.
- Apply grammar, syntax, spelling, and text organization.
- Revise and improve written work.
- Use writing to communicate experiences, opinions, and knowledge.

Language (Continued)

Oral Language

- Listen actively.
- Participate in conversations and discussions.
- Present ideas clearly.
- Build shared meaning through dialogue.
- Use oral language to collaborate and solve problems.

Multilingualism

- Develop communication skills in Spanish and additional languages.
- Respect diverse linguistic communities.
- Engage in intercultural dialogue through language

Critical Literacy

- • Analyze and evaluate information.
- Develop informed opinions.
- Use language as a tool for participation and citizenship.
- Understand multiple interpretations of texts.
- Connect reading and writing to social issues and community life.

Digital Communication

- Use digital resources ethically and responsibly.
- Locate, select, analyze, organize, and evaluate information.
- Communicate through digital media.
- Create and share content appropriately.

Arts Education

- Explore, experiment, and create individually and collaboratively through artistic experiences.
- Use arts as a means of expression, communication, and understanding the world.
- Develop sensitivity, perception, imagination, and creativity.
- Appreciate, interpret, and respond to artistic and cultural works.
- Experience artistic production as a way to communicate ideas, emotions, dreams, experiences, and perspectives.
- Participate in artistic activities that connect school, community, culture, and personal identity.