Scooter™

Scooter believes heaven is filled with tennis balls and ice cream. One of this loveable dog's favorite activities is playing hide and seek with your shoes. Because he's so great at making things disappear, his catchphrase is: "Labracadabrador!"

Fefe™

Fefe is a cat of many loves. She loves to eat, she loves to beg for food and she loves saying, "Get in my tummy!" A big fan of both dogs and television, Fefe is one cool kitty who is as comfortable on the couch as she is on the prowl.

Clyde™

"I'm all ears," Clyde often tells his friends when they need someone to listen. This funny bunny's favorite saying is, "I hear ya!" because even if you whisper, Clyde is definitely going to hear ya! Always thinking good thoughts, he's the eternal hop-timist.

Missy™

This blue-eyed charmer is quite a showoff. Missy likes nothing better than delivering long purr-ific monologues, which she ends with the twitch of her tail. The girl's got crazy cat-itude, and she's paw-sitive you'll love her.

Peach™

"Don't be a grumpy Gus... be a happy cat!" that's Peach's mantra. An exotic feline by nature, Peach loves playing cards—except when playing with cheetahs! That's the only thing that can put her in a bad meowd!

Fiona™

Fiona wants you to know she misses you already. She loves nothing more than the company of her siblings and friends, and hates to be alone. Her favorite catchphrase—or "cat-phrase"—is "Paw-lease come home soon!"

Kip™

Highly excitable and constantly on the move, Kip always has a smile on his face. In fact, Kip's what you'd call a "grinny pig." Big into swimming and eating his vegetables, Kip likes to stay in shape—the shape of a well-rounded individual.

Wilbur™

Nothing gets past Wilbur, whose ears perk up as soon as things go down. Like a boss, this bright and alert little guy always tries to run the show. As Wilbur often reminds his crew, "You don't have to be large to be in charge!"

Peggy Sue™

A sprinter by nature, leggy Peggy Sue can run circles around you! When she goes out to the hip hop clubs, Peggy Sue always tries to look her best. She makes sure to go to the hare dresser and she drapes herself in multi-carrot bling.

Figaro™

A natural detective, Figaro is constantly on the scent of crime. Specifically, crimes against sandwiches. So that he doesn't miss any clues, Figaro moves slowly and keeps his ears to the ground. You can call him a law man, but he'll modestly reply, "I ain't nothin' but a hound dog."

Mika™

Hot diggity dog, Mika's one clever pup! Always in the middle of things, Mika is as courageous as she is stubborn. She's so sure of her opinions, her body looks like an exclamation point! Unsurprisingly, Mika's catchphrase is, "That's the long and the short of it!"

Francesca™

Don't let the foofy haircut fool you, Francesca is one ruff and tumble doggy. Smart as a whip and fluent in French, Francesca will greet you with the Standard two kisses and a hearty "bone-jour!"

Tucker™

Size is only a state of mind with this scrappy pup! When it comes to keeping his humans safe, Tucker is always on the job! Did a rat steal the cheese? He'll sniff him out! Burglar lurking about? Tucker will run him out. But it's all in a day's work for this tiny-but-tough terrier whose bark is mightier than his bite!

Biggie™

"Big heart in a little package," that's what Biggie is all about. He may not stand tall among his fellow felines but when a friend needs a helping paw, he's no scaredy-cat. Catastrophes are few with Biggie as he can quietly and confidently declaw any scrappy situation

Francois™

Have fur will travel! Francois has stowed away on planes, trains and cruise ships to see the world! Some small dogs are lap dogs, but Francois will sleep in a suitcase for a chance to visit the great pyramids or the Parthenon. Though most days he prefers short trip to the butcher shop down the corner.

Priscilla™

While Priscilla isn't a big movie star yet, she loves to play the part. "I always have time for my paw-parazzi!" But this cat's big break is in the bag. After all, she is a third cousin of a guy that lives in the same building as the tabby that did that commercial once.

Khari™

With his golden halo of hair, Khari's considered the jungle's "mane" cat. And though he loves just lion around with friends, Khari makes sure everyone keeps their home neat and tidy because the King can't stand kitty litter! No one has more pride in the jungle than King Khari!

Tuma™

It's hard to forget Tuma after hearing him toot his own horn. But this elephant isn't bragging, he just wants to make sure you can hear him since not everyone has 6-foot long ears like he does. An eating machine, Tuma snacks on shrubbery up to 16 hours a day, so you can often hear his booty toot too!

Nia™

It's monkey business all the time for Nia, the jungle's resident entrepreneur. And Nia's business is bananas since she knows they "a-peel" to her customers. When not working, Nia loves monkeying around with her pals and getting all the gossip, which she hears through the ape-vine.

Talib™

Talib's a day dreamer who often has his head in the clouds. His name means "one who seeks" and with his long neck and limbs, you can also call him "Stretch Armstrong." But don't count on Talib getting anywhere early because somehow he always seems to get caught in a jungle giraffe jam!

Makena™

Though it sounds like Makena is saying, "Go away!" when she calls out, this chick couldn't be more delighted to see you! She and her feathered friends flock together in groups up to twenty. Whenever you see Makena flying around the bush you know a wild party is about to get started!

Amara™

Elegantly dressed in black and white, Amara the zebra refuses to blend in! She doesn't like to take sides, so she's usually the referee between teams of prideful animals. Out in the sun, Amara always wears sun screen because the last thing she wants to be is black and white and red all over!

Jelani™

When Jelani huddles with his buffalo buddies, you can bet they're both seen and herd! Waving their horns in the air like they just don't care, Jelani and friends are happiest when they're splashing around in the water. Jelani's mother sends him off to school each day with a hearty cry of, "Bison!"

Ayana™

People often mistake Ayana for a chubby unicorn, but this jolly rhino is best known for her nose horn. The horn makes no sound, but if it pokes you, you'll probably make a noise of your own! Despite Ayana's size, she sticks to a salad-based diet, grazing on greens and plants sun up through sun down.

Biko™

Always fashionable, Biko, the hippest hippo in the land, knows all the trends. He loves hip-hop music, and keeps his hair short so he isn't taken for a hippie. Even though he loves to spend time in the water, he doesn't know how to swim. If you want to teach him, we suggest you hippo-notize him first!

Abi™

When Abi was a young crocodile, she dreamt of becoming an investi-gator. But as she grew up, she decided being a liti-gator was more her style. After all, that was a job that would let her navigate the legal system and delegate work she didn't want to do to those behind her, aka the tail-gators!

Kojo™

A very civil serpent, Kojo doesn't like to argue; this cobra much prefers to hiss and make up. But if you rattle him, Kojo doesn't just get mad, he throws a hissy fit! And at that point, don't try to take a selfie with him because that would be a huge missssss-take!

Lulu™

Peaceful and happy, Lulu the warthog lives and frolics with forty of her friends! The girls groom each other at night and make sure the hair on their backs is perfectly styled. After all, one never knows when some handsome boar is going to come along and offer a silk purse for that sow's ear!

Naomi™

What's the purpose of this peculiar porpoise? That's what Naomi, the environmentally aware narwhal, asks herself each morning. Never one to sit still, this long spiral tusk beauty seeks to clean and clear the air and oceans. She cuts through the noise and pollution better than any fish in the sea!

Una™

Not just a horned horse with force, Una can gallop with grace. But when she wants to have fun, you'll find this unicorn trotting in fashion from place to place. Una's stylish appearance may suggest a party girl, but she works very hard to realize her dream of becoming an A-listener of any scene.

Neddie™

Waiting for Neddie? You're not alone. Frequently spotted but rarely there, Neddie likes to maintain a mysterious air. Some people say he looks like a bear, but that could be because of his long flowing hair. Other suggest he resembles an ape, but before you can blink, he's made his escape!

Dex™

Dex likes nothing better than camping. Always ready to breathe life into the party, he's a toasted marshmallow machine. And dragons always make the best campfire story tellers since they have such impressive tails. Best of all, you have no need to fear the knight when Dex is around!
